It is strongly recommended that, before undertaking this Examination, the candidate completes an appropriate study course and is familiar with operation of boilers in general. These courses are offered by various educational institutions in Canada.

In addition to the foregoing course, it is recommended that the candidate obtain and become familiar with the pertinent publications listed in the "Reference Material for Power Engineering Students and Examination Candidates", which is obtainable from the various institutes or from the SOPEEC web site (www.sopeec.org)

The requirements to qualify for a Third Class Engineer's Examination are outlined in the applicable jurisdictional Act and Regulations. Note that operating experience is normally required.
